LBJ Signs New GI Bill; Says Cost To Be High

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law today the "cold war GI bill," but remarked that its cost goes further than he was willing to recommend.

Johnson signed the measure in a ceremony in the White House East Room in which he noted that both houses of Congress passed it unanimously.

"I am going to resolve the doubt in favor of Congress," he said. "It just could be that the President was wrong."

The measure sets up a permanent program of educational benefits, housing loans and limited medical treatment for honorably discharged veterans with more than 180 days of active military service since Jan. 31, 1955, when the Korean GI bill of rights expired.

Johnson said the cost of the bill will be $245 million more than he had recommended for the first year and $1.8 billion more over the next five years.

The President did not elaborate on his cost figures. Earlier estimates, admittedly dependent on how many veterans apply, had put the cost of the bill as passed about $200 million higher than Johnson proposed for the first year.

Sen. Ralph Tarborough, D-Tex., the bill's chief sponsor, estimates 5 million veterans will be eligible for the new benefits.

The measure is estimated to cost $350 million the first year and $500 million annually by the fifth year.

Johnson wanted benefits limited to veterans of combat areas. This would cost about $150 million a year.

An individual can receive $100 a month in education payments for each month's service—with a 36-month limit. If he has a wife, he can get $125 a month, two or more dependents $150 monthly.

Education benefits begin June 1, but other parts of the program are effective at once.

Education payments can be used for high school, as well as college classes, for correspondence courses and by persons on active duty if their military assignments permit.

There is no provision for retroactive payments for veterans who have completed college, but the payments may be used for graduate work.

Veterans attending school part-time will receive scaled-down payments.

Veterans must complete their training within eight years after discharge. For those covered retroactively to 1955, the eight years start June 1.

The bill also guarantees up to $7,500 on home loans made by a private lender. Direct housing loans of up to $17,500 are provided in remote areas where private financing cannot be obtained.

Cong Ambushes Oil Tanker

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Using ambush tactics on water and land, the Viet Cong shot up a small oil tanker near Saigon today and killed at least 11 Vietnamese policemen in the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone.

In a vacant lot on Saigon's outskirts, authorities found the bodies of three young government employees executed by the Viet Cong. Their hands were tied behind their backs and they had been shot.

U.S. officials reported that air operations against North Viet Nam and in the South cost three American planes in the past three days. An A4 Skyhawk and an F4 Phantom jet, both from the 7th Fleet carrier Ranger, disappeared in heavy overcast over the North on Tuesday and their three crewmen were listed as missing.

On the ground, U.S. forces combed the jungles and rice paddies for the Communists but stirred up little action. The 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade killed six Viet Cong in operations around Tuy Hoa, a coastal town 240 miles northeast of Saigon. The paratroopers came upon two Viet Cong dispensaries, a loudspeaker system and a bird, which they proudly identified as the first enemy carrier pigeon captured in the war.

Communist gunners hidden in mangrove swamps on the west bank of a ship channel 15 miles southeast of Saigon raked the self-propelled oil barge Paloma with a barrage from recoilless rifles and 50-caliber machine guns in the second unsuccessful attempt in five days to block the inland capital's main link to the sea.

Ten crewmen were reported wounded. At least one Vietnamese sailor was said to have been hit in a brisk gunfight between the guerrillas and government minesweepers. Government troops went into the area to hunt down the attackers.

The Paloma, a 65-foot, 100-ton barge under charter to the Shell Oil Co., burst into flame amidships a short way from Nha Be, South Viet Nam's main fuel dump a few miles down the river from Saigon.

Other vessels seeking to aid the stricken tanker also came under fire. An unconfirmed report said a second tanker was attacked.

A U.S. Navy LST turned about and came upriver with its fire hoses spewing and its 40mm guns blazing. American officers at the scene credited the LST with saving the oil barge from destruction.

Within three hours, the raging fire in the ship's center hold was nearly out and it was being towed to the docks at Nha Be.

Canyon Squatters Moved Into Government Housing

MECCA, Calif. (AP) — Home — sweet tumble-down makeshift home — has been abandoned here by a group of squatters who've moved on to new, better and cleaner government housing in nearby Indio.

The squatters, most of them migratory farm workers, were living in old cars and shacks made of discarded junk.

Those seeking jobs and decent places to live have them today. The others — among 300 squatters in dry, barren Box Canyon — just pulled up and left.

One family, Phil and Lola Sigley, moved into a brand new — and strange — looking government house Wednesday with their two children.

"First time I've ever been inside a new house, least wise ever staying in one myself," Mrs. Sigley said. "It's the finest place I've ever stayed in."

A grin crossed her 24-year-old husband's face as he, their two children, Larry, 4, and Rebecca, 1, stood outside their new abode.

Inside, Mrs. Sigley, 21, ran her hands over the new stove, inspected the sink with faucets and bounced lightly on one of the four beds. "It's sure one of the oddest looking places I ever did see," she said.

And it was. The spacious one-room structure resembles the bellows section of an accordion or camera, and is made of heavy plastic-coated paper.

It is one of 80 units recently completed under a federal program at the Indio Farm Labor Center. Here, if the Sigleys stay long enough, their son will be enrolled in a pre-school program while they work.

Sigley said a Los Angeles Times story circulated by The Associated Press brought job offers for the squatters from all over the West.

"I talked to a man on the phone. He said he has a place for us to live permanently, and that he will pay me $100 a week steady to be a ranch hand at his place."

He added that a man who owns a Los Angeles box factory hired several of the squatters.

The squatters were urged to get out of Box Canyon by the Riverside County Health Department, which said they would not be permitted to remain in the canyon in their old shacks, caves, cars and cardboard packing cases.

Some, like the Sigleys, moved to the farm labor camp operated by the Riverside County Housing Authority. Adjacent to the new pastel structures stand 146 frame cabins also occupied by farm families.

Eminent Men Said Victims Of Extortion

NEW YORK (AP) — Eminent educators, including at least two deans of Eastern universities, prominent theatrical personalities and officers of the armed services — all homosexual — have been the victims of an extortion ring, the New York Times said today.

The ring has operated throughout the nation for nearly 10 years, the Times said.

The story also said in part: So brazen is the operation that in one instance two gang members, posing as New York City detectives, walked into the Pentagon and walked out with a high officer in the armed services.

The man, whom they shook down for several thousand dollars, committed suicide the night before he was scheduled to testify before a New York County grand jury.

This was learned Wednesday from the police and sources in the district attorney's office.

8 Beers End Coed's Career

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — You drink a pint of beer in each of King Street's eight pubs to qualify for the King Street Run Club.

Barbara Marshall, 19, did it — and was expelled from her college.

The club is a tradition among Cambridge University students. Barbara says she is the first girl member. It took her 75 minutes to qualify.

"Now I wish I hadn't done it," she said.

"I wasn't drunk and I haven't done anything to bring the college into disrepute. But now my whole career is ruined."

Barbara was training at the MacKenzie College of Speech and Drama to be a teacher.

U.S. Explains Silence on H-Bomb Loss

Diplomatic Rule Is Linked to Case in Spain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Officials said today diplomatic courtesy kept the United States silent on the biggest nonsecret in years — the loss of a hydrogen bomb over Spain.

"We couldn't say anything officially until Spain made a move," one authority said.

Spain made a move Tuesday, announcing that 2,000 persons had been exposed to a slight danger of radiation after a U.S. B52 bomber and KC135 tanker crashed after colliding in flight Jan. 17 near Palomares, Spain.

The United States followed up Wednesday with the first official acknowledgement four thermonuclear weapons were aboard the B52 when it crashed near the Mediterranean Coast.

The conventional explosives surrounding the critical core of the hydrogen devices blew apart two of the bombs upon impact with the earth, a Defense Department spokesman said. There was no nuclear chain reaction.

A third bomb was found apparently virtually intact.

The fourth remains missing — the object of an intensive search by 20 U.S. Navy ships, thousands of U.S. and Spanish military and civilian personnel and harried officials at the Pentagon and State Department.

One of the guesses is that the bomb is sunk in the muck of the Mediterranean, perhaps 1,000 feet deep. Radioactivity-gauging devices can penetrate only a few inches of the mud.

While there was no thermonuclear blast, the megatonnage was felt in international circles.

The Spanish minister of information demanded an end to flights over Spanish territory by U.S. planes carrying nuclear weapons.

The Soviet Union charged that

GI's Letter Followed by Army's Wire

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brooks of Cincinnati received a letter and a telegram Monday.

The letter, from their son in Viet Nam, Army Pfc. Charles E. Brooks, 20, said:

"Mom, I'll sure be glad to get home—if I get out of this war. I'm gonna get married, build me a new house and raise a family. I'm saving my money. Mom, pray that all of us over here get home alive and not dead."

The telegram came after they received the letter, and it informed them their son had been killed in action on Feb. 23.

The son's letter was dated Feb. 22.

Mrs. Brooks related Wednesday night that she had received a telegram on Feb. 24—the day after Charles was wounded and had died—informed them that his left arm had been amputated, and he would be rushed to a hospital in California.

The local Red Cross chapter said it would fly Mr. and Mrs. Brooks to San Francisco to see their son when he arrived.

"We were packing Monday, getting ready to go when that second telegram came," Mrs. Brooks said.

Specific Uses for Funds

State Aid Okayed For Joint Airport

State officials have assured Pickaway and Ross Counties they could receive maximum state aid toward construction of a joint airport.

The assurance came yesterday from John Cornett, assistant to the chief of the Ohio Division of Aviation; and G. E. Chambers, civil engineer attached to the Ohio Department of Public Works.

Both said the state would be willing to provide $200,000 toward construction of a joint airport. This would come through assignment of each county's maximum share of a state bond issue to the single project.

Cornett and Chambers met with a Pickaway-Ross Joint Airport Committee in the conference rooms at the local Du Pont plant.

MEMBERS of the Pickaway half of the committee are Alden Bray, manager of Du Pont; John H. Dunlap Jr., Williamsport area farmer; and Donald Goodchild, road contractor. The Ross members are Dr. Robert Swank, Paul Conway, an engineer; and Stuart Withers, a member of the Chillicothe Area Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee.

In addition to discussing available state monies for the proposed airport, the joint committee looked at various possible areas for the venture. About 8 or 10 different sites are under study in both Pickaway and Ross Counties.

The two state officials stressed that no state money could be used to acquire land for the proposed airport. Nor could the funds be used to build access roads or hangars.

The state money is earmarked for site improvements such as drainage, grading and paving of runways, landing lights, airplane parking areas and aircraft service ramps. It would be the joint responsibility of the two counties to provide and pay for land needed.

Major task facing the study committee is selection of an acceptable site. The panel is to report to its parent body made up of the commissioners of the two counties and two civil groups representing the Pickaway-Ross areas.

The smaller study panel was named by Pickaway Commissioners Wayne Hines, Lloyd Melvin and Charles Morris Jr. and by Ross Commissioners Emerson Brown, Alfred Immel and John Meeker.

BRAY has headed the larger Pickaway civic group and Swank has been a main cog in the Chillicothe area drive to secure modern aircraft facilities.

The reasoning behind the Pickaway-Ross joint airport idea is that the Chillicothe area's industrial growth appears to be northward while Circleville is south — both in the Scioto Valley and both adjoining the four-lane U. S. 23 highway.

An airport able to service large business-type aircraft as well as smaller commercial planes is the goal of the movers behind the joint airport effort. This was the thinking back of creation of a bond issue which voters approved two years ago — adequate airports for counties in Ohio which now cannot service industry's executive aircraft.

Auto Safety Plan Accepted

DETROIT (AP) — Auto industry leaders breathed a sigh of relief today after getting their first look at President Johnson's long-awaited traffic safety program.

"This is a reasonable proposal and we can live with it," said one industry source. He, along with others in the industry who discussed the program, declined use of his name.

The President's 17-page proposal sent to Congress Wednesday called for a $700-million, six-year program to arrest what he called "earnage on the highways."

The auto industry had known for several months that President Johnson, concerned over the nation's 49,000 traffic fatalities last year, was going to add his voice to the cause of auto safety.

Some industry leaders had expressed fears federal intervention in the safety program would result in government controls of the auto business.

In brief, the Johnson message called for:

—An authorization, but not a requirement, to the secretary of commerce to determine safety criteria for all vehicles.

—An increase in federal grants to states for highway safety projects.

—An expansion of the federal government's highway safety research efforts, including a national highway safety research and rest center.

Industry sources, who had repeatedly expressed hopes that they would be allowed to work out safety problems without federal interference, were cheered by the timetable set up in the Johnson message.

This provided that if the industry does not adopt voluntary safety standards for motor vehicles with two years after the secretary of commerce has suggested them, the secretary then could prescribe mandatory standards which would take effect two years later.

80-Year-Old Clock Stops; Caretaker Dies

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fred C. Staib, last of a distinguished line of Baltimore clock and watch makers, mounted the three stories above his shop Wednesday morning to wind a clock which has marked the time for Lexington Street merchants for four generations.

Today, the clock went unwound for the first time in its 80-year history, and stopped. Staib died Wednesday afternoon of a heart attack at 83.

Senate Panel Gets Estimate

McNamara Unable To State U.S. Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told worried senators today that he expects the enemy troop buildup to reach its height in Viet Nam at the end of this year.

Basing his assessment largely on estimates of how big a force the Communists can keep supplied in the face of U.S. air opposition, McNamara used it as a major factor for this conclusion:

"I do not believe that we are facing in Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia."

McNamara appeared at a closed session to answer questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whose probe of administration Southeast Asian policy has been the storm center of debate.

McNamara told the committee the United States has done everything possible militarily and diplomatically "to make it unmistakably clear that there is no justification for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam."

But he said that given the history of militant actions by Communist China "it would be irresponsible for me to say that we run no risk of war with China arising from our efforts to defend South Viet Nam from aggression."

McNamara said he could not say how long the war will last or specifically how many more American troops will be needed.

But, basing his view on estimates of the number of combat troops North Viet Nam can infiltrate monthly and the number the Viet Cong can recruit, McNamara said "there could be in South Viet Nam by the end of 1966 some 155 VC and North Vietnamese battalions, approximately 50 per cent above the Dec. 31, 1965, level."

"At that point and at the level of combat anticipated for the end of 1966, the enemy forces would require about 150 tons of supplies per day, and we believe our improved air interdiction efforts would prevent them from receiving much more than that amount."

McNamara argued it will be necessary to counter the enemy buildup this year with an increase in South Vietnamese, American and other free world forces.

McNamara estimated that some 70,000 Vietnamese troops will be added by the end of 1966, for a total of 670,000.

One task facing McNamara was a defense of his own announcement Wednesday of a new 20,000-man increase in U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam.

McNamara was expected to be called upon to support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assertion Wednesday night that the "tide has begun to turn in our favor" in the effort to halt Viet Cong aggression and to bolster the South Vietnamese economy.

Time Is Running Out for Noted Balladeer

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Guthrie is an Oklahoma-born folk singer who tramped out of a dust bowl existence in search of a better life. He never really did find it, and now his time is running out.

He tried to "make it" in California in the early 1930s. He tried again in New York. He wrote at least a thousand songs along the way. Some people listened. Most didn't.

Today he has found a great and eager following in England and is the subject of a strong revival in the United States. But for Woody Guthrie, 53, it is the end rather than the beginning.

For the past 15 years he has been slowly, helplessly, dying of an hereditary disease called Huntington's Chorea, an affliction that progressively destroys coordination and runs its fatal course in about 15 years.

Coordination is the one thing a man like Guthrie can't afford to lose.

It was coordination of mind and guitar-strumming hands that produced one of his best-known songs:

"This land is your land, This land is my land, From California to the New York island, From the Redwood forests to the Gulf Stream waters, This land was made for you and me."

That verse—in some of his songs there are as many as 100

verses—is typical of the Guthrie philosophy.

"I hate a song that makes you think that you're not any good," he said once. "I hate a song that makes you think that you are just born to lose. No good to no body. No good for nothing."

"I am out to fight those kinds of songs to my very last breath of air and my last drop of blood. I am out to sing the songs that make you take pride in yourself and in your work."

Guthrie spends all his time now in the Brooklyn State Hospital and is no longer able to talk. His songs have been recorded by Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, Frank Sinatra and Peter, Paul and Mary.

His letters, poems, writings and records are being published and re-released. Balladeer Pete Seeger has predicted great fame for Guthrie's music.

Long-time companion Cise Houston calls Guthrie "the greatest folk poet we've had."

"We couldn't say anything officially until Spain made a move," one authority said.

Spain made a move Tuesday, announcing that 2,000 persons had been exposed to a slight danger of radiation after a U.S. B52 bomber and KC135 tanker crashed after colliding in flight Jan. 17 near Palomares, Spain.

The United States followed up Wednesday with the first official acknowledgement four thermonuclear weapons were aboard the B52 when it crashed near the Mediterranean Coast.

The conventional explosives surrounding the critical core of the hydrogen devices blew apart two of the bombs upon impact with the earth, a Defense Department spokesman said. There was no nuclear chain reaction.

A third bomb was found apparently virtually intact.

The fourth remains missing — the object of an intensive search by 20 U.S. Navy ships, thousands of U.S. and Spanish military and civilian personnel and harried officials at the Pentagon and State Department.

One of the guesses is that the bomb is sunk in the muck of the Mediterranean, perhaps 1,000 feet deep. Radioactivity-gauging devices can penetrate only a few inches of the mud.

While there was no thermonuclear blast, the megatonnage was felt in international circles.

The Spanish minister of information demanded an end to flights over Spanish territory by U.S. planes carrying nuclear weapons.

The Soviet Union charged that

GI's Letter Followed by Army's Wire

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. William M. Brooks of Cincinnati received a letter and a telegram Monday.

The letter, from their son in Viet Nam, Army Pfc. Charles E. Brooks, 20, said:

"Mom, I'll sure be glad to get home—if I get out of this war. I'm gonna get married, build me a new house and raise a family. I'm saving my money. Mom, pray that all of us over here get home alive and not dead."

The telegram came after they received the letter, and it informed them their son had been killed in action on Feb. 23.

The son's letter was dated Feb. 22.

Mrs. Brooks related Wednesday night that she had received a telegram on Feb. 24—the day after Charles was wounded and had died—informed them that his left arm had been amputated, and he would be rushed to a hospital in California.

The local Red Cross chapter said it would fly Mr. and Mrs. Brooks to San Francisco to see their son when he arrived.

"We were packing Monday, getting ready to go when that second telegram came," Mrs. Brooks said.

State Aid Okayed For Joint Airport

State officials have assured Pickaway and Ross Counties they could receive maximum state aid toward construction of a joint airport.

The assurance came yesterday from John Cornett, assistant to the chief of the Ohio Division of Aviation; and G. E. Chambers, civil engineer attached to the Ohio Department of Public Works.

Both said the state would be willing to provide $200,000 toward construction of a joint airport. This would come through assignment of each county's maximum share of a state bond issue to the single project.

Cornett and Chambers met with a Pickaway-Ross Joint Airport Committee in the conference rooms at the local Du Pont plant.

MEMBERS of the Pickaway half of the committee are Alden Bray, manager of Du Pont; John H. Dunlap Jr., Williamsport area farmer; and Donald Goodchild, road contractor. The Ross members are Dr. Robert Swank, Paul Conway, an engineer; and Stuart Withers, a member of the Chillicothe Area Chamber of Commerce Airport Committee.

In addition to discussing available state monies for the proposed airport, the joint committee looked at various possible areas for the venture. About 8 or 10 different sites are under study in both Pickaway and Ross Counties.

The two state officials stressed that no state money could be used to acquire land for the proposed airport. Nor could the funds be used to build access roads or hangars.

The state money is earmarked for site improvements such as drainage, grading and paving of runways, landing lights, airplane parking areas and aircraft service ramps. It would be the joint responsibility of the two counties to provide and pay for land needed.

Major task facing the study committee is selection of an acceptable site. The panel is to report to its parent body made up of the commissioners of the two counties and two

Blizzard Pounds Across Plains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A blustery snow storm whipped across the northern Plains into the Lake Superior district today after leaving heavy blankets of white in wide areas in the Rockies.

Blizzard conditions pounded some parts of the storm belt which covered eastern sections of Montana and Wyoming, the Dakotas and northern Minnesota. There was considerable drifting and in some parts of Montana snow removal crews were on around-the-clock duty.

Winds of 25 to 30 m.p.h. caused drifts of four to five feet in some parts of Montana. Heaviest snow accumulations totaled near two feet at Red Lodge in the southern part of the state. Snow also totaled nearly two feet at Evanston, in southwestern Wyoming, with similar amounts in some higher mountain areas.

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Fred C. Staib, last of a distinguished line of Baltimore clock and watch makers, mounted the three stories above his shop Wednesday morning to wind a clock which has marked the time for Lexington Street merchants for four generations.

Today, the clock went unwound for the first time in its 80-year history, and stopped. Staib died Wednesday afternoon of a heart attack at 83.

Senate Panel Gets Estimate

McNamara Unable To State U.S. Need

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told worried senators today that he expects the enemy troop buildup to reach its height in Viet Nam at the end of this year.

Basing his assessment largely on estimates of how big a force the Communists can keep supplied in the face of U.S. air opposition, McNamara used it as a major factor for this conclusion:

"I do not believe that we are facing in Viet Nam an unlimited, open-ended commitment to a major land war in Asia."

McNamara appeared at a closed session to answer questions of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee whose probe of administration Southeast Asian policy has been the storm center of debate.

McNamara told the committee the United States has done everything possible militarily and diplomatically "to make it unmistakably clear that there is no justification for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam."

But he said that given the history of militant actions by Communist China "it would be irresponsible for me to say that we run no risk of war with China arising from our efforts to defend South Viet Nam from aggression."

McNamara said he could not say how long the war will last or specifically how many more American troops will be needed.

But, basing his view on estimates of the number of combat troops North Viet Nam can infiltrate monthly and the number the Viet Cong can recruit, McNamara said "there could be in South Viet Nam by the end of 1966 some 155 VC and North Vietnamese battalions, approximately 50 per cent above the Dec. 31, 1965, level."

"At that point and at the level of combat anticipated for the end of 1966, the enemy forces would require about 150 tons of supplies per day, and we believe our improved air interdiction efforts would prevent them from receiving much more than that amount."

McNamara argued it will be necessary to counter the enemy buildup this year with an increase in South Vietnamese, American and other free world forces.

McNamara estimated that some 70,000 Vietnamese troops will be added by the end of 1966, for a total of 670,000.

One task facing McNamara was a defense of his own announcement Wednesday of a new 20,000-man increase in U.S. fighting forces in Viet Nam.

McNamara was expected to be called upon to support Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's assertion Wednesday night that the "tide has begun to turn in our favor" in the effort to halt Viet Cong aggression and to bolster the South Vietnamese economy.

Arlington Burials Await Astronauts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The bodies of astronauts Elliot M. See Jr. and Charles A. Bassett II have been brought here for burial Friday amid the nation's honored dead at Arlington National Cemetery.

See, 38, a civilian, and Bassett, 34, an Air Force major, were killed Monday when their T38 jet fighter-trainer crashed into a building at the McDonnell Aircraft Corp. plant at St. Louis, Mo. They had been scheduled to fly the Gemini 9 space mission next May.

Memorial services were held Wednesday in Houston, Tex.

Time Is Running Out for Noted Balladeer

NEW YORK (AP) — Woody Guthrie is an Oklahoma-born folk singer who tramped out of a dust bowl existence in search of a better life. He never really did find it, and now his time is running out.

He tried to "make it" in California in the early 1930s. He tried again in New York. He wrote at least a thousand songs along the way. Some people listened. Most didn't.

Today he has found a great and eager following in England and is the subject of a strong revival in the United States. But for Woody Guthrie, 53, it is the end rather than the beginning.

For the past 15 years he has been slowly, helplessly, dying of an hereditary disease called Huntington's Chorea, an affliction that progressively destroys coordination and runs its fatal course in about 15 years.

Coordination is the one thing a man like Guthrie can't afford to lose.

It was coordination of mind and guitar-strumming hands that produced one of his best-known songs:

"This land is your land. This land is my land. From California to the New York Island, from the Redwood forests to the Gulf Stream waters, this land was made for you and me."

That verse—in some of his songs there are as many as 100

verses—is typical of the Guthrie philosophy.

"I hate a song that makes you think that you're not any good," he said once. "I hate a song that makes you think that you are just born to lose. No good to nobody. No good for nothing."

"I am out to fight those kinds of songs to my very last breath of air and my last drop of blood. I am out to sing the songs that make you take pride in yourself and in your work."

Guthrie spends all his time now in the Brooklyn State Hospital and is no longer able to talk. His songs have been recorded by Bing Crosby, Harry Belafonte, Frank Sinatra and Peter, Paul and Mary.

His letters, poems, writings and records are being published and re-released. Balladeer Pete Seeger has predicted great fame for Guthrie's music.

Long-time companion Cisc Houston calls Guthrie "the greatest folk poet we've had."

GE Strike Is Ended

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 1,350 employees voted Wednesday night to end their one-day strike at the General Electric Co. plant in Evendale and return to work today.

Senate Panel

at a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee appeared likely to revolve around why—with 215,000 Americans already committed to the struggle—the Communists still are able to call the turn on the escalation of hostilities.

McNamara told a news conference Wednesday that if need be the American manpower commitment in Viet Nam could be boosted to 350,000 without ordering Reservists to active duty.

The defense chief said that although there are now about 300,000 U.S. servicemen in Southeast Asia, American fighting forces are "fully capable of meeting our commitments" around the world.

McNamara's announcement that another 20,000 men will be sent to Viet Nam came only five days after President Johnson told a news conference: "We do not have on my desk at the moment any unfilled requests" from Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, for more men.

McNamara did not say when the additional 20,000 men will be sent to Viet Nam.

Humphrey told an American Legion legislative dinner Wednesday night that President Johnson is following a middle course between quitting South Viet Nam and resorting to "massive escalation and violence" to win there.

The vice president drove home, as he had in a three-hour session with senators previously, that the President is unwilling at this point to recognize the Communist Viet Cong as a "separate entity"—as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., proposed—at any negotiation table that may materialize.

Humphrey said that the Viet Cong, and its political front, the National Liberation Front, are the creatures of Hanoi. He pictures the Viet Nam conflict as only a part of the power struggle to save Asia from communism.

He had, he said, a "rewarding experience" answering the questions of senators about equally divided between critics and supporters of Johnson's conduct of the war.

But he said that while it was "easy to debate and theorize about Asian communism," 10,000 miles away, aggressive and subversive communism was not a subject of debate by nations in the area. There, he said, "it is a harsh, dangerous reality."

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market settled irregularly lower as trading slackened early this afternoon. Some stocks were fairly strong.

After two days of sharp decline the list seemed to be groping for support.

The early steadiness could not generate anything much of a following and many early gains were clipped as the list moved downward on balance amid predictions that the averages might have to "test" lows before mounting a really strong rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .4 at 348.3 with industrials off .6, rails off .8 and utilities up .4. The Dow industrials at noon was off 3.01 at 929.09.

Police Investigations Reviewed by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has completed a searching re-examination of its historic Escobedo decision apparently deeply divided on how it should be applied to police investigations across the land.

In one sense at least, Justice Potter Stewart suggested Wednesday as three days of hearings on five Escobedo-type cases drew to a close, the court may be chasing a "will o' the wisp."

The Escobedo ruling in 1964 for the first time extended to a suspect in a police station the right to consult his lawyer — and set off a national debate on police practices. They hang in the balance until the justices hammer out their differences if they can and, perhaps by June, announce their decisions.

Again and again, as lawyers pressed their cases before the court during the exhaustive review, they were asked by the justices to give their own readings of the Escobedo ruling. The answers were diverse.

To California Deputy Atty. Gen. Gordon Ringer, the Escobedo decision does not mean the state is obliged to provide a lawyer to a police suspect before taking his confession.

"It's a question of the facts in each individual case," Ringer said.

But to William A. Norris, a Los Angeles attorney appointed by the high court to represent a man who had been convicted of murder on the basis of a purse-snatching confession, it means suspects not only have the right to a lawyer's assistance during police interrogation, but that the right is not "contingent upon request."

What about the justices themselves?

Although Chief Justice Earl Warren cautioned one lawyer against "trying to read our minds," the only clues at this point are in the justices' bench remarks and questions.

The Escobedo decision threw out, by the narrow 5-4 vote, the Illinois conviction of a man who was prevented by police from seeing his waiting lawyer before confessing a murder.

"We hold only," then-Justice Arthur J. Goldberg said for the majority, "that when the process shifts from the investigatory to accusatory — when its focus is on the accused and its purpose is to elicit a confession, the accused must be permitted to consult with his lawyer."

Justice Hugo L. Black, who voted with the majority then and doesn't appear to have retreated from his position since, said during the review he wasn't certain what "accusatory stage" means.

And Stewart, who dissented in the Escobedo case, said that trying to determine when police actually are focusing on a suspect is like "trying to chase a will o' the wisp."

Instead, Stewart suggested each particular case may have to be examined to determine if the rule against coerced confessions was abridged.

Nkrumah Said Guinea's Chief

Ousted Ghanaian Claims 2 Nations

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Guinea's roving ambassador, Abdoulaye Diallo, said today Kwame Nkrumah has replaced Sekou Toure as president of both Guinea and Ghana.

Diallo said Toure stepped down Wednesday and Nkrumah's combined presidency became effective at once.

"Sekou Toure has not done this for Nkrumah but for the people of Ghana and the people of Africa," Diallo told a news conference.

"This is the wish of the people of Guinea," the roving ambassador added.

He said with Nkrumah now being leader of both countries, the Guinea delegation also is representing Ghana at a conference of foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity here.

Diallo called the new Ghana government a "loy of the imperialists" and said Guinea would take part in no OAU conference attended by representatives of the new Ghana regime.

Earlier, Guinea, Tanzania and Mali quit the conference because the delegation from the new Ghana government was seated. Guinea gave Nkrumah refuge Wednesday.

Toure has backed Nkrumah against the military leaders of Ghana who overthrew the president last Thursday. Toure welcomed Nkrumah to Conakry, Guinea's capital, Wednesday as a chief of state. Nkrumah flew in from Moscow.

The Ivory Coast, whose government opposed Nkrumah's African policies, lies between Guinea and Ghana on Africa's west coast.

Local Girl Hurt In Auto Mishap

Marilyn Sue Hix, 18, Route 3, was slightly injured at 8:53 p. m. Wednesday near Robtown where she lost control of her car on a curve.

Building, Trailer Swept by Fire

A fire at 1:37 a. m. today destroyed an outbuilding and its contents and heavily damaged a house trailer near Commercial Point.

The trailer belongs to Charles Parmenter of Commercial Point.

Loss was estimated at $5,000 by officials of the Commercial Point Volunteer Fire Department.

U.S. Explains

The United States had caused widespread radioactive contamination and violated the nuclear test ban treaty.

The United States sat tight-lipped.

The reason for U.S. silence, a high official said, was to comply with Spain's desire for no public comment on the matter.

"With Spain perhaps threatening us to remove our air bases, we couldn't very well go against her wishes," this official said. "The fact of the matter is, we've had a statement ready to be released by the U.S. Embassy in Spain for the last two weeks."

One version of the situation as explained by some officials is that military security was the overriding factor in the first few days after the crash. The United States did not want to set materials to fall into the foreign hands.

At this time, too, officials felt the missing fourth bomb would be found shortly and a public statement could be made.

As the search developed, the story goes, United States officials began to see a need to make a clean breast of things in view of widespread press reports that nuclear armament was involved.

Spain, nevertheless, stood fast for no public statement.

The refusal is attributed to several factors: Spain has an authoritarian government. Spain did not want to alarm the somewhat backward folk of village areas where the crash occurred. Spain did not want the United States to announce something that involved Spanish territory.

U.S. officials acquiesced.

Deaths and Funerals

MRS. LENA BOWSHER

Mrs. Lena Bowshe, 77, a Pickaway County native, died Wednesday at her daughter's home in Winchester, Ind.

Mrs. Bowshe lived most of her life in Ohio. She had resided with her daughter, Mrs. Emma Barker, for the last 10 years in Winchester. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church there.

Three other daughters survive. They are Mrs. Joan Wyson and Mrs. Coral Valentine, both of Largo, Fla., and Mrs. Garnett Miller, Baltimore, O.

Also surviving are two sons, William Bowshe of Largo, Fla., and James Neff of Columbus, O.; one sister, Mrs. Mabel Moore of Arlington, Va.; and 10 grandchildren.

Services will be 10 a. m. Saturday at the Maynard and Walker Funeral Home in Winchester, with the Rev. William Montigani and the Rev. Alan Keiffer officiating. Burial will be in Forest Rose Cemetery, Lancaster, O.

Friends may call at the Maynard and Walker Funeral Home 2-5 and 7-9 Friday. Brief graveside services will be conducted Saturday at the Lancaster cemetery.

MRS. MARY C. MACE

Mrs. Mary Catherine Mace, 79, Chillicothe, died 10 a. m. Wednesday in Chillicothe Hospital following a lengthy illness.

She was born Mar. 13, 1886, in Ross County the daughter of John W. and Catherine Conrod Grubb.

Mrs. Mace, a former resident of Circleville, was a member of the Circleville Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses. She was a registered nurse.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. William (Iona) Grubb, and a brother, Oliver Grubb, both of Chillicothe; a half-brother, several nieces and nephews.

Services will be 11 a. m. Saturday at the Fawcett-Oliver Funeral Home, Chillicothe, with

Paul H. Hirschman officiating.

Burial will be in Bishop Hill Cemetery, Ross County.

Friends may call at the funeral home 4-9 p. m. Friday.

MRS. MARIE A. WRIGHT

Mrs. Marie A. Wright, 75, Columbus, died Thursday at her home.

Born Oct. 2, 1890, Mrs. Wright was the daughter of Simon and Sara Alsbaugh. She was a member of St. Mathew Lutheran Church, Lockbourne.

Surviving are her husband, Walter W. Wright, one daughter, Mrs. Frieda Kuhlwein, both of the residence; one grandson, and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be 2 p. m. Saturday in the St. Mathew Lutheran Church with the Rev. E. William Bensch officiating. Burial will be in Lithopolis Cemetery.

Madison Trustees Buy Building

A bid of $4,000 submitted by Madison Twp. Trustees for the Madison Twp. School building has been accepted by the Teays Valley Board of Education.

Submitting the bid during a regular meeting of the board of education were Charles McCray, Weimer Perrill and Kenneth Dean, all trustees.

Their offer to pay $2,000 now and $2,000 at the beginning of next year was approved.

GE Strike Is Ended

CINCINNATI (AP) — About 1,350 employees voted Wednesday night to end their one-day strike at the General Electric Co. plant in Evendale and return to work today.

Senate Panel

at a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee appeared likely to revolve around why—with 215,000 Americans already committed to the struggle—the Communists still are able to call the turn on the escalation of hostilities.

McNamara told a news conference Wednesday that if need be the American manpower commitment in Viet Nam could be boosted to 350,000 without ordering Reservists to active duty.

The defense chief said that although there are now about 300,000 U.S. servicemen in Southeast Asia, American fighting forces are "fully capable of meeting our commitments" around the world.

McNamara's announcement that another 30,000 men will be sent to Viet Nam came only five days after President Johnson told a news conference: "We do not have on my desk at the moment any unfilled requests" from Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in South Viet Nam, for more men.

McNamara did not say when the additional 20,000 men will be sent into Viet Nam.

Humphrey told an American Legion legislative dinner Wednesday night that President Johnson is following a middle course between quitting South Viet Nam and resorting to "massive escalation and violence" to win there.

The vice president drove home, as he had in a three-hour session with senators previously, that the President is unwilling at this point to recognize the Communist Viet Cong as a "separate entity"—as Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., proposed—at any negotiation table that may materialize.

Humphrey said that the Viet Cong, and its political front, the National Liberation Front, are the creatures of Hanoi. He pictures the Viet Nam conflict as only a part of the power struggle to save Asia from communism.

He had, he said, a "rewarding experience" answering the questions of senators about equally divided between critics and supporters of Johnson's conduct of the war.

But he said that while it was "easy to debate and theorize about Asian communism," 10,000 miles away, aggressive and subversive communism was not a subject of debate by nations in the area. There, he said, it is a harsh, dangerous reality.

Stock Mart Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market settled irregularly lower as trading slackened early this afternoon. Some stocks were fairly strong.

After two days of sharp decline the list seemed to be groping for support.

The early steadiness could not generate anything much of a following and many early gains were clipped as the list moved downward on balance amid predictions that the averages might have to "test" lows before mounting a really strong rally.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 4 at 348.3 with industrials off .6, rails off .8 and utilities up .4. The Dow industrials at noon was off 3.01 at 929.00.

Police Investigations Reviewed by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has completed a searching re-examination of its historic Escobedo decision apparently deeply divided on how it should be applied to police investigations across the land.

In one sense at least, Justice Potter Stewart suggested Wednesday as three days of hearings on five Escobedo-type cases drew to a close, the court may be chasing a "will o' the wisp."

The Escobedo ruling in 1964 for the first time extended to a suspect in a police station the right to consult his lawyer — and set off a national debate on police practices. They hang in the balance until the justices hammer out their differences if they can and, perhaps by June, announce their decisions.

Again and again, as lawyers pressed their cases before the court during the exhaustive review, they were asked by the justices to give their own readings of the Escobedo ruling. The answers were diverse.

To California Deputy Atty. Gen. Gordon Ringer, the Escobedo decision does not mean the state is obliged to provide a lawyer to a police suspect before taking his confession.

"It's a question of the facts in each individual case," Ringer said.

But to William A. Norris, a Los Angeles attorney appointed by the high court to represent a man who had been convicted of murder on the basis of a purge-snatching confession, it means suspects not only have the right to a lawyer's assistance during police interrogation, but that the right is not "contingent upon request."

What about the justices themselves?

Although Chief Justice Earl Warren cautioned one lawyer against "trying to read our minds," the only clues at this point are in the justices' bench remarks and questions.

The Escobedo decision threw out, by the narrow 5-4 vote, the Illinois conviction of a man who was prevented by police from seeing his waiting lawyer before confessing a murder.

"We hold only," then Justice Arthur J. Goldberg said for the majority, "that when the process shifts from the investigatory to accusatory — when its focus is on the accused and its purpose is to elicit a confession... the accused must be permitted to consult with his lawyer." Justice Hugo L. Black, who voted with the majority then and doesn't appear to have retreated from his position since, said during the review he wasn't certain what "accusatory stage" means.

And Stewart, who dissented in the Escobedo case, said that trying to determine when police actually are focusing on a suspect is like "trying to chase a will o' the wisp."

Instead, Stewart suggested each particular case may have to be examined to determine if the rule against coerced confessions was abridged.

Nkrumah Said Guinea's Chief

Ousted Ghanaian Claims 2 Nations

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP)—Guinea's roving ambassador, Abdoulaye Diallo, said today Kwame Nkrumah has replaced Sekou Toure as president of Guinea and now is president of both Guinea and Ghana. Diallo said Toure stepped down Wednesday and Nkrumah's combined presidency became effective at once.

"Sekou Toure has not done this for Nkrumah but for the people of Ghana and the people of Africa," Diallo told a news conference.

"This is the wish of the people of Guinea," the roving ambassador added.

He said with Nkrumah now being leader of both countries, the Guinea delegation also is representing Ghana at a conference of foreign ministers of the Organization of African Unity here.

Diallo called the new Ghana government a "toy of the imperialists" and said Guinea would take part in no OAU conference attended by representatives of the new Ghana regime.

Earlier, Guinea, Tanzania and Mali quit the conference because the delegation from the new Ghana government was seated. Guinea gave Nkrumah refuge Wednesday.

Toure has backed Nkrumah against the military leaders of Ghana who overthrew the president last Thursday. Toure welcomed Nkrumah to Conakry, Guinea's capital, Wednesday as a chief of state. Nkrumah flew in from Moscow.

The Ivory Coast, whose government opposed Nkrumah's African policies, lies between Guinea and Ghana on Africa's west coast.

Local Girl Hurt In Auto Mishap

Marilyn Sue Hix, 18, Route 3, was slightly injured at 8:53 p. m. Wednesday near Robtown where she lost control of her car on a curve.

She was treated by her family physician for a laceration of the left knee.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department investigated the accident.

Building, Trailer Swept by Fire

A fire at 1:37 a. m. today destroyed an outbuilding and its contents and heavily damaged a house trailer near Commercial Point.

The trailer belongs to Charles Parmenter of Commercial Point.

Loss was estimated at $5,000 by officials of the Commercial Point Volunteer Fire Department.

U.S. Explains

(Continued from Page 1) the United States had caused widespread radioactive contamination and violated the nuclear test ban treaty.

The United States sat tight.

The reason for U.S. silence, a high official said, was to comply with Spain's desire for no public comment on the matter.

"With Spain perhaps threatening us to remove our air bases, we couldn't very well go against her wishes," this official said. "The fact of the matter is, we've had a statement ready to be released by the U.S. Embassy in Spain for the last two weeks."

One version of the situation as explained by some officials is that military security was the overriding factor in the first few days after the crash. The United States did not want top secret materials to fall into the foreign hands.

At this time, too, officials felt the missing fourth bomb would be found shortly and a public statement could be made.

As the search developed, the story goes, United States officials began to see a need to make a clean breast of things in view of widespread press reports that nuclear armament was involved.

Spain, nevertheless, stood fast for no public statement.

The refusal is attributed to several factors: Spain has an authoritarian government. Spain did not want to alarm the somewhat backward folk of village areas where the crash occurred. Spain did not want the United States to announce something that involved Spanish territory.

U.S. officials acquiesced.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The past year, particularly the past two months, has been as dizzy and confused a time in American foreign affairs as any since the isolationism of the 1930s left the United States docile, unarmed and ill-prepared for the war that came.

How Weather Looks Today

CENTRAL OHIO — Mostly cloudy and mild with occasional showers today, tonight and Friday. Turning colder late Friday. Low tonight 52. High Friday 58.

SOUTHEAST OHIO — Mostly cloudy and mild with occasional showers today, tonight and Friday. Turning colder late Friday. High Friday 60-65. Low to night 48-53.

NORTHWEST, NORTHEAST AND EAST CENTRAL OHIO — Cloudy with occasional showers tonight and Friday. Mild to night. Low 45-50. Turning colder Friday afternoon or night.

By James Marlow

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations.

Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communists into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no

regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson, sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious to satisfy as many Americans as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

Now the divided opinion on the Vietnamese war may well make the North Vietnamese Communists and the Viet Cong believe the American will to fight is splintered and that by continuing the war they may win what they want.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, Connecticut Democrat, calls the criticism of the Vietnamese war "the new isolationism." But the criticism is not so clear as that. There is a general unhappiness among the critics but no unity on a solution.

Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Democrat, has denounced President Johnson's Viet Nam policy as "immoral and godless." He said Johnson has no constitutional right to send troops into it without a declaration of war. But there is not even a little sign Congress intends to declare war.

Morse called for arbitration of the war by the United Nations.

Johnson made a bid to the United Nations for a negotiated settlement. But the U.N. Security Council shows little stomach for getting involved.

Last spring Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, Johnson's constant war critic, and chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a halt to the bombing of North Viet Nam as a way to induce the Communists into a negotiated settlement.

Starting late in December, and for 37 days, Johnson halted the bombings, sent peace emissaries around the world. The North Vietnamese ignored him and Johnson ordered the bombing resumed Jan. 31.

Later Fulbright called for a negotiated settlement with major concessions by both sides, and this week he proposed a settlement by agreement with Red China for neutralization of all Southeast Asia.

But the United States has no

regular diplomatic relations with the Chinese, has kept them out of the United Nations. And it is hard to see how China, even if it agreed not to invade its neighbors, could be kept from subverting them, which would have the same effect as invasion.

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, retired, told Fulbright's committee a large-scale increase of American troops in Viet Nam would involve the risk of war with Red China. Wednesday Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced American combat strength in Viet Nam would be boosted from 215,000 to 235,000 men.

Yet, Gavin insisted American troops should stay in Viet Nam but at the same time said this country should not escalate the war.

And George F. Kennan, one-time head of the State Department's policy planning staff, also had some advice for Fulbright's group: This country should decide what could be securely held in Viet Nam and then dig in and wait for a political solution. But even while he was saying it the Viet Cong held about 75 per cent of South Viet Nam.

Johnson, sensitive to criticism and public opinion and anxious as possible, has been talking of waging a very restrained kind of war, which may or may not be evidence the critics have tied his hands a bit.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is there any danger to an infant if he gains weight too fast? My child weighed eight pounds at birth. What should his weight be at four months?

Mrs. C. E., Indiana

Dear Mrs. E.: The average birth weight of healthy infants is about seven pounds. Healthy premature infants weigh less.

Infants have a remarkable built-in "governor" that tells them and their mother what their food needs are. When unsatisfied, a husky clammering for more food comes quickly to the mother's ears. Then overfed, a tightly clamped mouth and head-twisting from side-to-side, is the definite message of "enough."

There is no danger if your child seems to be gaining weight too rapidly, unless there is some unusual underlying medical condition. Certainly, if this is even a vague source of concern, your physician can quickly assuage your anxiety.

The average weight gain of infants is roughly double their birth weight at about five to six months. From then on the weight gain is about a pound a month for the first year.

You must not use the growth of other babies as an index of the health and progress of your own child.

The rate of physical, intellectual and emotional progress of all infants and children is an individual one.

What is your opinion about putting braces on children's teeth? My granddaughter's lips, tongue and cheeks are sore from them. She has to take sleeping pills to get rest. Can the irritation cause cancer as an adult?

C. O. W., New Jersey

Dear Mr. W.: The need for braces or orthodontia (straight teeth) is not a matter of opinion or speculation. The science of orthodontia is a remarkably exact one, one that has brought limitless dental health to millions of people. Irregularly spaced teeth and crooked teeth can change the bite, modify the growth of the jaws, affect speech and alter the appearance of the child and, later the adult.

The dental surgeon decides on orthodontic treatment only after he carefully studies the total condition of the child's mouth with X-rays and special molds. The dental progress of a child can then be carefully observed.

When braces are first applied, they can cause excess salivation and perhaps irritation of the mouth and lips. This will undoubtedly be corrected soon.

It is understandable that you, the grandfather, are distressed by this temporary condition. You can be assured that there is no danger that braces may cause cancer.

It is imperative that you do not transmit this fear to your grandchild.

The problem of the sleeping pills in a young child confuses me. I doubt that barbiturates would be prescribed for such a condition.

Check with your doctor and dental surgeon. Most certainly they will relieve your unnecessary anxiety about her total physical and emotional health.

By BENNETT CERF

A BATTERED, washed-up ex-champ in the middleweight division elbowed his way up to a bar near Madison Avenue, and was button-holed by one of those tin-horn sports who love to badger pathetic has-beens. "I recognized you the minute you came in," crowed the heckler. "I seen you fight at least 10 times and I never seen you win once." "You're gonna see me win now," answered the ex-champ grimly—and floored his tormentor with one beautiful left to the jaw—while the crowd yelled its approval.

That German shepherd canine which has been carrying off belongings of visitors to an Alpine ski resort in France is probably smarter than the cops, who finally nabbed him, think. The pooch had a perfect disguise — that of a police dog.

The pilfering pooch was caught making off with a jacket containing a large sum of money. Just like a human crook — it probably can't withstand the smell of ill-gotten gold.

Police say they don't know what to do with the kleptomaniac canine. However, temporarily, he's in their doghouse in more ways than one.

NFO Members Hear Reports At Meeting

Reports on various subjects highlighted February's meeting of the Pickaway County National Farmers Organization.

Tom Conrad, Pickaway NFO president, termed the Feb. 12 ham supper a success. He expressed thanks to all persons that helped.

Vernon Steinke, NFO organizer, gave a report on membership growth. He said NFO is the fastest growing of four major farm organizations — one that in 10 short years has organized 25 states.

Steinke noted that numerous area farmers have joined NFO since the first of the year and more are expressing interest.

Kenneth Reid, grain chairman, reported on the signups under NFO grain marketing arrangements. He said a large amount of grain is signed, but that more is needed.

Reid urged all NFO members who have grain to sign it up if they wish to take part. He pointed out that participation is voluntary, but those doing so stand to make a good profit in price over the local market.

The next meeting is Mar. 15 in the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building, starting at 8 p. m.

Israeli Girls Hail Pilot's Peace Try

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A police charge and a hero's welcome greeted Abraham N than Tuesday night on his return from a futile one-man peace mission to the United Arab Republic.

The police charged him with leaving Israel illegally, then freed him on bail.

Girls heaped flower garlands on the 38-year-old restaurant owner as he was carried shoulder high into a downtown hotel.

A welcoming party of 200 chanted: "Abie, Abie—long live Abie."

Nathan, a former fighter pilot, took off Monday hoping to present a peace petition to Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser. He said the petition was signed by 80,000 Israelis.

Harsha Speaks Bill Seeks To Restore Vet Pensions

Congressman William H. Harsha today introduced a bill to restore non-service-connected veterans' pensions which have been reduced or eliminated because of receipt of increased Social Security benefits.

The Ohio lawmaker said that last year, when the badly needed increase in cash Social Security benefits was enacted, many veterans and or their widows, were moved into a higher income bracket. Since non-service-connected pensions are based on income limitations, some of our ex-servicemen and their widows had their pensions reduced or terminated entirely.

He cited an example:

"One widow received a four-dollar increase in her monthly Social Security payments. This caused her outside income for purposes of computing her veterans' pension to be over $600. As a result her veterans' pension, which had been $64 a month, was reduced to $48 per month, resulting in a net loss of $12 per month in her total income."

"This is not an isolated case," the Ohio congressman said, "but it has unfortunately occurred in a great number of instances, resulting in undue hardship to those required to live on meager fixed incomes."

Harsha said most of the group whose pensions have been cut are disabled, on limited incomes, and in their advanced years. "A reduction in their pension is a real hardship and the situation should be corrected," he said, and went on to explain, "Social Security payments are based on the individual's working years; veteran pensions are based on the individual's sacrifices for his country. I feel that Social Security payments should have no effect on veterans. The pensioned veteran has merited this consideration."

Parcel Numbering OK'd For General Tax List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, in an opinion to Licking County Prosecutor Neil M. Laughlin, said Wednesday a county auditor, with approval of the county treasurer, can compile a general tax list of real and public utility property "in a parcel numbering system keyed with a separate alphabetical listing."

But the ruling said an alphabetical list cannot be used for individual townships unless it applied for the entire county.

Port Said and officials there refused to let him see Nasser. They gave him enough fuel to get back to Israel.

Tacticians in Viet Jockey for Position

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Both the American and Communist commands are pushing pieces onto the Viet Nam chessboard for the long awaited showdown tournament that could decide military tactics for decades to come.

Although both sides still are pulling their chessmen out of the box, the positions of the opposing sides are taking shape.

Narrow-waisted Viet Nam, with terrain ranging from swamps, jungle and delta paddies to coastal wastelands and rugged mountains, makes for a puzzling and confused board at best. The rules are being written as the players jockey for position and make their opening moves.

So far the Americans and non-Vietnamese allies are restricted to moving in three of the four army corps areas. The southernmost 4th Corps — the Mekong River delta — still is an all-South Vietnamese show.

A focal point of the American buildup to 200,000 men is in the Saigon area where an iron umbrella is being created to shelter the capital from six or seven hard-core Viet Cong regiments.

A large part of the additional American troops expected to be sent to Viet Nam this year are likely to be thrown into the 3rd Army Corps which surrounds Saigon.

The western edge of the umbrella is 25 miles from Saigon at Cu Chi where the 2nd Brigade of the 25th Division has taken serious casualties just trying to wrest living space from the Viet Cong.

The American forward wall then swings through the Ben Cat-Lai Khe area, home of the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division, to Phuoc Vinh, the area held by the 1st Division's 1st Brigade.

One flank of Saigon is held by the 2nd Brigade and the 173rd Airborne Brigade at Bien Hoa. This also is the site of a jet airstrip used by the Air Force in its daily poundings of the Viet Cong.

Future arrivals are expected to be stationed south of Saigon which, besides being the national capital, is the command and logistics hub of the allied effort.

The American command is concerned about the buildup in Viet Cong strength around the capital. Intelligence reports indicate that as many as eight enemy battalions are operating under the umbrella. So far these units have pretty much confined themselves to attacks on small posts, terrorism and propaganda.

Unconfirmed reports identify one of the battalions as a heavy weapons unit, possibly armed with 120mm mortars. There is speculation these might be used against the capital in case of air attack against Hanoi or Hanoi attacks have been launched against police posts in the city's outskirts.

The 16,000-strong 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division is based in An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

With some 450 helicopters at their disposal, the 1st Cavalry troops have jumped all over the board in the jungled vastness near the Cambodian border and operate also on the coast.

These lightning assaults are hard for the Viet Cong to handle, but sometimes leave American troops exposed in case one of the units runs into an overwhelming enemy force.

At the top of the board in the 1st Army Corps some 45,000 Marines are in position at three beachheads. Despite the Marines' tradition of crack assault troops, in Viet Nam their primary role has been one of defense with most of the emphasis on jet strips at Da Nang and Chu Lai. More than 100 jet fighter-bombers are divided between the bases.

The Marines' assault capability is expected to grow when more Leathernecks are dispatched to Viet Nam.

Their pacification program is aimed at permitting the three coastal enclaves to link up and then expand control westward toward the mountains and Laos. One hundred miles separate Hue-Phu Bai in the north and Chu Lai in the south. The job of linking the beachheads will take more than one year by the most optimistic estimates.

NFO Members Hear Reports At Meeting

Reports on various subjects highlighted February's meeting of the Pickaway County National Farmers Organization.

Tom Conrad, Pickaway NFO president, termed the Feb. 12 ham supper a success. He expressed thanks to all persons that helped.

Vernon Steinke, NFO organizer, gave a report on membership growth. He said NFO is the fastest growing of four major farm organizations — one that in 10 short years has organized 25 states.

Steinke noted that numerous area farmers have joined NFO since the first of the year and more are expressing interest.

Kenneth Reid, grain chairman, reported on the signups under NFO grain marketing arrangements. He said a large amount of grain is signed, but that more is needed.

Reid urged all NFO members who have grain to sign it up if they wish to take part. He pointed out that participation is voluntary, but those doing so stand to make a good profit in price over the local market.

The next meeting is Mar. 15 in the Fairgrounds 4-H and Grange Building, starting at 8 p. m.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Thursday, March 3, the 62nd day of 1966. There are 303 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1921, by act of Congress, "The Star-Spangled Banner" became the National Anthem, although it had been popularly recognized as such for many years.

Israeli Girls Hail Pilot's Peace Try

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—A police charge and a hero's welcome greeted Abraham N than Tuesday night on his return from a futile one-man peace mission to the United Arab Republic.

The police charged him with leaving Israel illegally, then freed him on bail.

Girls heaped flower garlands on the 38-year-old restaurant owner as he was carried shoulder high into a downtown hotel. A welcoming party of 200 chanted: "Abie, Abie—long live Abie."

Nathan, a former fighter pilot, took off Monday hoping to present a peace petition to Egyptian President Gamal Abdul Nasser. He said the petition was signed by 80,000 Israelis.

Harsha Speaks

Bill Seeks To Restore Vet Pensions

Congressman William H. Harsha today introduced a bill to restore non-service-connected veterans' pensions which have been reduced or eliminated because of receipt of increased Social Security benefits.

The Ohio lawmaker said that last year, when the badly needed increase in cash Social Security benefits was enacted, many veterans and their widows, were moved into a higher income bracket. Since non-service-connected pensions are based on income limitations, some of our ex-servicemen and their widows had their pensions reduced or terminated entirely. He cited an example:

"One widow received a four-dollar increase in her monthly Social Security payments. This caused her outside income for purposes of computing her veterans' pension to be over $600. As a result her veterans' pension, which had been $64 a month, was reduced to $48 per month, resulting in a net loss of $12 per month in her total income."

"This is not an isolated case," the Ohio congressman said, "but it has unfortunately occurred in a great number of instances, resulting in undue hardship to those required to live on meager fixed incomes."

Harsha said most of the group whose pensions have been cut are disabled, on limited incomes, and in their advanced years. "A reduction in their pension is a real hardship and the situation should be corrected," he said, and went on to explain, "Social Security payments are based on the individual's working years; veteran pensions are based on the individual's sacrifices for his country. I feel that Social Security payments should have no effect on veterans. The pensioned veteran has merited this consideration."

Parcel Numbering OK For General Tax List

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, in an opinion to Licking County Prosecutor Neil M. Laughlin, said Wednesday a county auditor, with approval of the county treasurer, can compile a general tax list of real and public utility property "in a parcel numbering system keyed with a separate alphabetical listing."

But the ruling said an alphabetical list cannot be used for individual townships unless it applied for the entire county.

Port Said and officials there refused to let him see Nasser. They gave him enough fuel to get back to Israel.

Tacticians in Viet Jockey for Position

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Both the American and Communist commands are pushing pieces onto the Viet Nam chessboard for the long awaited showdown tournament that could decide military tactics for decades to come.

Although both sides still are pulling their chessmen out of the box, the positions of the opposing sides are taking shape.

Narrow-waisted Viet Nam, with terrain ranging from swamps, jungle and delta paddies to coastal wastelands and rugged mountains, makes for a puzzling and confused board at best. The rules are being written as the players jockey for position and make their opening moves.

So far the Americans and non-Vietnamese allies are restricted to moving in three of the four army corps areas. The southernmost 4th Corps — the Mekong River delta — still is an all-South Vietnamese show.

A focal point of the American buildup to 200,000 men is in the Saigon area where an iron umbrella is being created to shelter the capital from six or seven hard-core Viet Cong regiments.

A large part of the additional American troops expected to be sent to Viet Nam this year are likely to be thrown into the 3rd Army Corps which surrounds Saigon.

The western edge of the umbrella is 25 miles from Saigon at Cu Chi where the 2nd Brigade of the 25th Division has taken serious casualties just trying to wrest living space from the Viet Cong.

The American forward wall then swings through the Ben Cat-Lai Khe area, home of the 3rd Brigade of the 1st Infantry Division, to Phu Vinh, the area held by the 1st Division's 1st Brigade.

One flank of Saigon is held by the 2nd Brigade and the 173rd Airborne Brigade at Bien Hoa. This also is the site of a jet airstrip used by the Air Force in its daily poundings of the Viet Cong.

Future arrivals are expected to be stationed south of Saigon which, besides being the national capital, is the command and logistics hub of the allied effort.

The American command is concerned about the buildup in Viet Cong strength around the capital. Intelligence reports indicate that as many as eight enemy battalions are operating under the umbrella. So far these units have pretty much confined themselves to attacks on small posts, terrorism and propaganda.

Unconfirmed reports identify one of the battalions as a heavy weapons unit, possibly armed with 120mm mortars. There is speculation these might be used against the capital in case of air attack against Hanoi or Haiphong in North Viet Nam. Military attacks have been launched against police posts in the city's outskirts.

The 16,000-strong 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division is based in An Khe, 250 miles northeast of Saigon.

With some 450 helicopters at their disposal, the 1st Cavalry troops have jumped all over the board in the jungled vastness near the Cambodian border and operate also on the coast.

These lightning assaults are hard for the Viet Cong to handle, but sometimes leave American troops exposed in case one of the units runs into an overwhelming enemy force.

At the top of the board in the 1st Army Corps some 45,000 Marines are in position at three beachheads. Despite the Marines' tradition of crack assault troops, in Viet Nam their primary role has been one of defense with most of the emphasis on jet strips at Da Nang and Chu Lai. More than 100 jet fighter-bombers are divided between the bases.

The Marines' assault capability is expected to grow when more Leathernecks are dispatched to Viet Nam.

Their pacification program is aimed at permitting the three coastal enclaves to link up and then expand control westward toward the mountains and Laos. One hundred miles separate Hue-Phu Bai in the north and Chu Lai in the south. The job of linking the beachheads will take more than one year by the most optimistic estimates.

Third Man Accused In Slaying of Clerk

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—A third man has been charged with first-degree murder and armed robbery in the slaying of a part-time grocery clerk Raymond Pounds, 28, during a holdup here Feb. 19.

Police said charges were filed Wednesday against Silar Richardson Jr., 28, of Lorain. Two Elyria men — Thomas Walton Hill, 25, and Joseph Jones, 26 — were indicted on similar charges by the Lorain County Grand Jury last week.

Guest Speaker Discusses Cost of College Education

Fifty persons attended the annual spring guest day luncheon of the Child Conservation League at the Pickaway Arms. Guest speaker for the event was Mrs. Gordon Carson, whose husband is vice president of business and finance at Ohio State University. The title of Mrs. Carson's talk was "The Costs of College Education."

She pointed out that consideration should be given, when a child enters high school, as to whether college is going to be the goal after high school graduation.

Testing services are available at OSU and other conveniently located schools which will help direct the young student, Mrs. Carson said, and the service is not necessarily costly.

"By the time 'junior is a junior' he should be thinking about where he is going and why," Mrs. Carson said. His special interests should enter into his thinking when making a college selection. She noted that the new General College at OSU is designed to prepare the unsure high school graduate in "steering his interests."

She gave several points and examples in comparing OSU's various schools and colleges with other well-known schools in the area.

Not one of the various undergraduate schools or professional schools at OSU are bigger than any of their counterparts in a single campus situation, she said. For example, OSU's College of Engineering compares favorably in size with the entire Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, which is limited to science and engineering.

Mrs. Carson listed some comparative figures of leading Ohio colleges and universities based on a normal college year. Fees and registration for an academic year at OSU are $387; at Miami U, $420; at Ohio U, $450; at OWU, $1500; at Wooster, $1500; and at Denison, $1550.

Room and board for the year at OSU costs $823; at Miami $790; at Ohio U $738; at Ohio Wesleyan, $900; at Wooster, $900; and at Denison, $860. She indicated that all college costs would be increased accordingly in the coming years. The above figures were based on records of last fall.

Nice for company: cauliflower-erets (cooked) served with brown butter sauce and slivered toasted almonds.

Civic Club Plans Annual Style Show

JERRY RASO

Jerry Raso, radio and TV personality, will be master of ceremonies for the "Spring Fantasy of Fashion," theme of the style show to be sponsored by the Women's Civic Club of Ashville.

The event will be held 8 p. m. Mar. 10 in the Teays Valley High School Auditorium.

Members of the club, professional models and students from Teays Valley High School will model the fashions. There will be musical numbers and refreshments will be served.

Proceeds from this annual event support a Memorial Scholarship Fund. Tickets are available at the door, from club members, at Featheringham's Gift Shop and at Lou Deal's Flowers Shop.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Relative Didn't Get the Picture

DEAR ABBY: Last August two of our daughters were married at a double wedding. At the reception when everyone was feeling good, a relative who is in the furniture business promised each of the brides a colored TV for wedding gifts. They were planning on the sets, so neither bought one. Several months passed and no sets, so I took the bull by the horns and asked this relative about the promised sets. (Apologized tactfully of course.) He said it had slipped his mind and he would "get after it" right away. He also thanked me for reminding him. Seven months later, and no trace of the sets. He is well to do, loved by all of us and is really a peach of a guy. We know he has a lot on his mind, but SEVEN months! Should I remind him once more or forget about it?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Your "peach" of a guy either has a very fuzzy memory or he must have been stoned at the reception when he made the offer. You've already jogged his memory once without results. I think by now your daughters should have gotten "the picture" without TV sets.

DEAR ABBY: A friend asked me if I wanted to go out with a "southern gentleman" from Memphis, so I said sure. I am in my middle forties and he's in his middle fifties, and we are both divorced.

The minute this "gentleman" walked in he started giving me all this jazz about how every thing from the weather to the women was better in the south. Then he threw in a few digs about how "loud" and "aggressive" the yankee girls are. He said he was more accustomed to the softspoken, ladylike refined southern woman. Well, I was born and raised in the Bronx and I'm proud of it. And I don't talk with "dees, dems, and doses" either. Should I have said, "Drop dead, you all?" How would you have handled it?

FROM THE BRONX
DEAR FROM: I would have thanked him for the "lovely" evening. And made it a short one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an aunt in her eighties. She lives alone and we invite her over quite often. I'd invite her more often because she is very lonely, but she is the world's worst bore. She never stops talking. She talks about fire, death, rape, murder, etc. Her voice is loud and she won't let anyone get a word in.

Don't tell me it's her age. She's always been this way. My husband brings her here, dumps her off on me, and the he goes and hides in the yard or at a neighbor's. If she were not wealthy she'd have been locked up long ago. What can we do? Can we tell her we would have her here more if she'd be quiet once in a while.

ANONYMOUS
DEAR ANONYMOUS: Out of respect for her age, even though age is not the reason for her obnoxious conduct, be tolerant. But don't try to re-vamp Auntie's personality at this stage of life because it can't be done.

Guest Speaker Discusses Cost of College Education

Fifty persons attended the annual spring guest day luncheon of the Child Conservation League at the Pickaway Arms. Guest speaker for the event was Mrs. Gordon Carson, whose husband is vice president of business and finance at Ohio State University. The title of Mrs. Carson's talk was "The Costs of College Education."

She pointed out that consideration should be given, when a child enters high school, as to whether college is going to be the goal after high school graduation.

Testing services are available at OSU and other conveniently located schools which will help direct the young student, Mrs. Carson said, and the service is not necessarily costly.

"By the time 'junior is a junior' he should be thinking about where he is going and why," Mrs. Carson said. His special interests should enter into his thinking when making a college selection. She noted that the new General College at OSU is designed to prepare the unsure high school graduate in "steering his interests."

She gave several points and examples in comparing OSU's various schools and colleges with other well-known schools in the area.

Not one of the various undergraduate schools or professional schools at OSU are bigger than any of their counterparts in a single campus situation, she said. For example, OSU's College of Engineering compares favorably in size with the entire Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, which is limited to science and engineering.

Mrs. Carson listed some comparative figures of leading Ohio colleges and universities based on a normal college year. Fees and registration for an academic year at OSU are $387; at Miami U. $420; at Ohio U. $450; at OWU, $1500; at Wooster, $1500; and at Denison, $1550.

Room and board for the year at OSU costs $823; at Miami $790; at Ohio U. $738; at Ohio Wesleyan, $900; at Wooster, $900; and at Denison, $860.

She indicated that all college costs would be increased accordingly in the coming years. The above figures were based on records of last fall.

Nice for company: cauliflower-erets (cooked) served with brown butter sauce and slivered toasted almonds.

Civic Club Plans Annual Style Show

JERRY RASOR

Jerry Rasor, radio and TV personality, will be master of ceremonies for the "Spring Fantasy of Fashion," theme of the style show to be sponsored by the Women's Civic Club of Ashville.

The event will be held 8 p. m. Mar. 10 in the Teays Valley High School Auditorium.

Members of the club, professional models and students from Teays Valley High School will model the fashions. There will be musical numbers and refreshments will be served.

Proceeds from this annual event support a Memorial Scholarship Fund. Tickets are available at the door, from club members, at Featheringham's Gift Shop and at Lou Deal's Flowers Shop.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Relative Didn't Get the Picture

DEAR ABBY: Last August two of our daughters were married at a double wedding. At the reception when everyone was feeling good, a relative who is in the furniture business promised each of the brides a colored TV for wedding gifts. They were planning on the sets, so neither bought one. Several months passed and no sets, so I took the bull by the horns and asked this relative about the promised sets. (Apologetically and tactfully of course.) He said it had slipped his mind and he would "get after it" right away. He also thanked me for reminding him. Seven months later, and no trace of the sets. He is well to do, loved by all of us and is really a peach of a guy. We know he has a lot on his mind, but SEVEN months! Should I remind him once more or forget about it?

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Your "peach" of a guy either has a very fuzzy memory or he must have been stoned at the reception when he made the offer. You've already jogged his memory once without results. I think by now your daughters should have gotten "the picture" without TV sets.

DEAR ABBY: A friend asked me if I wanted to go out with a "southern gentleman" from Memphis, so I said sure. I am in my middle forties and he's in his middle fifties, and we are both divorced.

The minute this "gentleman" walked in he started giving me all this jazz about how every thing from the weather to the women was better in the south. Then he threw in a few digs about how "loud" and "aggressive" the yankee girls are. He said he was more accustomed to the softspoken, ladylike refined southern woman. Well, I was born and raised in the Bronx and I'm proud of it. And I don't talk with "dees, dems, and doses" either. Should I have said, "Drop dead, you all?" How would you have handled it?

FROM THE BRONX
DEAR FROM: I would have thanked him for the "lovely" evening. And made it a short one.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has an aunt in her eighties. She lives alone and we invite her over quite often. I'd invite her more often because she is very lonely, but she is the world's worst bore. She never stops talking. She talks about fire, death, rape, murder, etc. Her voice is loud and she won't let anyone get a word in.

Don't tell me it's her age. She's always been this way. My husband brings her here, dumps her off on me, and the he goes and hides in the yard or at a neighbor's. If she were not wealthy she'd have been locked up long ago. What can we do? Can we tell her we would have her here more if she'd be quiet once in a while.

ANONYMOUS
DEAR ANONYMOUS: Out of respect for her age, even though age is not the reason for her obnoxious conduct, be tolerant. But don't try to re-vamp Auntie's personality at this stage of life because it can't be done.

FRANK NAGY

Frank Nagy, a supervisor in "Kapton" manufacturing at the Du Pont plant, has been transferred to the company's Yerkes Research & Development Laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y.

Nagy joined Du Pont in 1958 as an engineer in the Circleville plant's technical section. He later served as a foreman and shift supervisor in both "Mylar" and "Kapton" manufacturing.

He attended Youngstown University and was graduated at Ohio State University with a bachelor degree in chemical engineering. He lived in Columbus prior to his new assignment.

The supervisor is a member of the AICHE professional chemists society.

Teacher Role As Probation Aides Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus plan of hiring public school teachers to serve as part-time probation officers is under study for statewide use by the Ohio Youth Commission.

Expansion of the Columbus plan, originated by Juvenile Court Judge John Hill, into 10 Columbus schools is set for this month. Judge Hill began the program on an experimental basis in four schools last November.

The teachers will perform their regular duties for the Board of Education during school hours with youngsters in their schools placed on probation.

Intent of the system is to provide closer supervision of youthful offenders who, while not sentenced to institutions by the court, have been placed on probation in their community instead of being sentenced to an institution.

Daniel Johnson, director of the Ohio Youth Commission, said today he is exploring the possibility of extending the Columbus system to other major Ohio cities. Teachers might be recruited on a part-time basis as commission field consultants to work with the regional centers in those cities.

dered and said, "Don't like that black rifle."

He was speaking of the M16 rifle, a deadly new weapon that looks like something out of science fiction with its black plastic stock and forearm, sub-machinegun-like pistol grip and dull finish. It is just one of the light weapons with which the more than 200,000 Americans here fight the Reds.

The M16 is 243-caliber, which, perhaps fittingly, makes it what shooters in the United States call "a varmint rifle."

It has a 20-round magazine. Soldiers generally tape two ends to end so they can reload with the flick of a wrist. The weapon can fire 700 rounds per minute.

Despite complaints, the cavalrymen generally like the M16. It is light and on full automatic it can be deadly against enemy snipers in palm trees.

Once there was talk that the little bullet "tumbled" as soon as it hit flesh. This is true at long range but at short range the slug pierces like any other bullet.

New Deputy Director For Appalachia Named

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack R. Hill, 37, of Cadiz is the new deputy director of the Ohio Office of Appalachia.

Hill, named to the post Wednesday by Director Alber G. Giles.

Another weapon, though less preferred, is the bulkier, heavier M14, which looks more like the standard rifle. It also fires a 20-round clip but shoots 7.62mm ammunition, almost as big as the 30-caliber bullets used in the M1 rifle of World War II and Korea.

Most heavy infantry in Viet Nam is armed with the M14. Paratroop units, the cavalry division and the 1st Infantry Division are equipped with the M16. Marines and the 25th Army Division mainly carry the M14.

The standard machine gun is the M60, a weapon that can be adapted for the infantry or mounted in a helicopter. It also shoots 7.62mm ammunition.

A new weapon is the M79 grenade launcher which looks like a big bore, sawed-off, single-barrel shotgun. The troops love it and it has been effective against well dug-in Viet Cong forces. Its rifled barrel fires accurately over more than 200 yards.

The M60 is now the standard issue fragmentation grenade for all U.S. and most Vietnamese army troops. It is lighter, more powerful than the old "pineapple" type grenade.

The standard mortar is the 81mm which has pinpoint accuracy up to 3,500 yards. For a time the Army abandoned the little 60mm mortar.

The 60s were brought back when the need became plain for a light mortar in the jungle fighting. They are now evident in Marine units and some 1st Cavalry outfits.

Some heavy infantry units have big 4.2-inch mortars which are actually light artillery.

The 45-caliber semi-automatic pistol remains the standard infantry sidearm for men carrying machineguns or mortar parts. Officers generally tote rifles so as not to invite sniper fire.

Almost all helicopter crews and some ground troops carry a 38-caliber special revolver, although technically, enlisted men are not supposed to carry personal weapons. Unit commanders are given leeway on this. Troopers have somehow acquired everything from tiny 25-caliber semi-automatic pistols to Thompson submachine guns.

On a patrol with a 1st Cavalry company a newsmen spotted a huge, Colt 45 revolver of World War I vintage in a big black holster slung half way down the leg of a burly, six-foot-plus trooper.

"Man," he grinned, "that's my up-close Cong convincer."

Some heavy infantry units have big 4.2-inch mortars which are actually light artillery.

The 45-caliber semi-automatic pistol remains the standard infantry sidearm for men carrying machineguns or mortar parts. Officers generally tote rifles so as not to invite sniper fire.

Almost all helicopter crews and some ground troops carry a 38-caliber special revolver, although technically, enlisted men are not supposed to carry personal weapons. Unit commanders are given leeway on this. Troopers have somehow acquired everything from tiny .25-caliber semi-automatic pistols to Thompson submachine guns. On a patrol with a 1st Cavalry company a newsman spotted a huge, Colt 45 revolver of World War I vintage in a big black holster slung half way down the leg of a burly, six-foot-plus trooper.

"Man," he grinned, "that's my up-close Cong convincer."

Party Given For Children By TV Class

The Freshman Home Economics Classes at Teays Valley finalized a unit in child care and training by giving a party for children in the 3-6 age group.

The children were brothers and sisters, friends or babysitting acquaintances.

Story-telling, puppet shows, group games, various physical development activities and refreshments were planned and carried out by the girls with emphasis on observing the physical, and mental as well as emotional behavior of this age group.

Children who attended the party were Douglas Flowers, Kim Aldenderfer, Danny LeMaster, Kathy Brown, Terri Myers, Jan Gulick, Jill Huston, Randy Brown, Jeff Lutz, Mary Lutz, Mary Hinkle, Kay Hinkle, Trent Pettibone, Brent Pettibone, Rebecca Horsley, Pam Hutchinson, Kelly Hill, Nella Baughman, David Cummins, April Lynn Melvin, Vicki Bell and Teresa Bell.

Carol Greene Earns Award

Teays Valley's 1966 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Carol Greene. She scored highest in a written knowledge and aptitude examination taken by senior girls.

Carol is now eligible for state and national scholarship awards and has already earned a special award pin from the program's sponsor, General Mills.

Test papers of all school winners in the state are being judged, and a State Homemaker of Tomorrow and runnerup will be selected soon. The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 college scholarship and her school will be awarded a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The second-ranking girl in the state will receive a $500 educational grant.

The Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow was instituted by General Mills in 1954 to emphasize the importance of homemaking as a career. Preparation of the test and selection of Homemakers of Tomorrow is in the hands of Science Research Associates, Chicago educational testing and Publishing Company.

New TV Students Are Interviewed

By MARY WATSON

"What do you think of Teays Valley and how does it differ from your previous school?" Several of the new TV students were recently asked this question.

Mike Palsgrove, a senior from Peru, N. Y., said, "I like English and government better now than I did in New York. Teays Valley is much smaller than my former school."

Sidney Liming, a junior from Laurelville, was surprised to learn that students could drive to school. Sidney feels that teachers and students in Laurelville are friendlier than at TV. Teays Valley differs from Laurelville in that TV has more periods in a day, a larger gym and has an auditorium. Sidney likes American history and feels that English is somewhat harder. His only objection to Teays Valley is that he has too many study halls a day.

Bobby Bowles comes to TV from a school in Fort Worth, Tex., which is about three times the size of Teays Valley. Bobby thinks that Teays Valley has rules which are a little more demanding than her former school. For example, students could chew gum, had five minutes to change classes, operated on a seven period day, and received no detentions unless they were late to class. Detention was more severe. A student was required to stay after school for one-half hour for each detention he received.

Bobby said that her former school held an hour long pep rally each week. They also had school movies which students could see. The curriculum differed in that they had a work-study program where students could learn a trade. Bobby was learning to become a beautician before transferring to TV.

A freshman from Laurelville, Arthur Liming, is enjoying the physical fitness program in gym class. He thinks Teays Valley has good teachers and that the school is better equipped than Laurelville. He also said, "The subjects are a little harder."

Dennis Craig, a freshman from Everett Junior High School, said that he is glad TV has a supply room so that he can buy school items when he needs them. He was also impressed with the language laboratory. Friendliness and taking an interest in students were two of the attributes he noticed about the TV faculty. Dennis does miss running the projector for the noon movies which were shown at Everett.

A Walnut Ridge sophomore, Rita Levering, said she liked Walnut Ridge because it was larger. However, she thinks that TV is a beautiful school and that students and faculty are friendly. TV and Walnut Ridge differ in at least two ways. One is that Walnut Ridge has just one homecoming queen and court. The other is that they have a student court who acts as judge and jury and gives detentions.

Ted Palsgrove said, "The first day I came to TV I was amazed. Everyone, including the teachers had a friendly smile on his face; they all seemed so happy." Ted, a freshman from Peru, New York, said Algebra I is his favorite subject.

A former Madison South freshman, Russell Clements, thinks the students and teachers at TV are quite friendly, like the large library, and notes that TV is well equipped. He also said, "The Vikings have a lot more spirit and take pride in saying they are from TV." Madison South students have only two minutes to change classes and they have no detention. Russell said, "What was different at Madison South was that both boys and girls were in my junior business class, but here, I'm the only boy." He enjoys general math and he enjoys being a TV student.

Teays Valley GAA Records Win

The Teays Valley Freshmen, reserve and varsity GAA basketball teams, traveled to Hamilton Twp. School last Friday evening.

Freshmen scored the first win with an 18-1 victory of the Hamilton freshmen. Sandy Perrell led the scoring with 12 points.

Later, the reserve team showed great enthusiasm by defeating Hamilton 21-14. The leading scorer for the team was Michele McCray scoring 10 of 21 Teays Valley points.

As a grand finale, the varsity team, Jody Butt, Jill Butt, Joan Glasspoole, Virginia Webster, Karen Rife, Sue Dingus, Janet

Two Teays Valley Seniors Are Finalists on Merit Tests

At the pep rally last Friday, Mr. Benis Lutz announced that Glenn Flierl and Jim Willis were finalists on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

This announcement stood out as a first in the history of Teays Valley High School. Glenn and Jim are the first TV students to become finalists on the National Merit Test.

Both boys have been outstanding scholars throughout high school in that they have maintained a high scholastic average. They both achieved the highest honor a high school can offer by being initiated into the National Honor Society during their junior year. In addition to scholarship, they have also been active in other school affairs.

Jim Willis participated in basketball and track during his first two years at TV and has always been in the intramural program.

For the past three years Jim has been a member of the marching and concert bands. As a first trumpet player, he won several musical awards. Jim was elected by his class to serve on the student council during his freshman year, was a Latin Club member during his sophomore year and is a member of FTA this year.

Glenn Flierl participates in various musical activities. He is a member of concert band, marching band and pep band. He received music awards for three years and he has been a member of an ensemble group for four years. His latest musical accomplishment was singing in the barbershop quartet in "The Music Man."

Glenn has been quite active in dramatics throughout his high school career. He has been in drama club for three years and was one of the first students to earn enough points to be initiated into The National Thespian Society. He has been responsible for a major portion of the scenery and lighting design for the high school plays.

Science has been an interest of Glenn's also. Beside being active in the Science Club, he has also participated in the science fairs. Other school organizations Glenn has served are FTA, Latin Club, newspaper staff and he was elected to student council this year and during his freshman year.

Frosh Basketball At Teays Valley

The freshmen scored a 49-37 victory over Hilliards on Teays Valley's home basketball floor.

At the end of the first quarter the Vikings led 16-4. At half-time they trailed by one point. In the last quarter the Vikings obtained a 10-point lead and the game ended in a victory. Mark Leatherwood was the high scorer.

The next game was with London and again on the Vikings' home court. The local freshmen were in foul trouble at the end of the first quarter and trailed at half time by ten points. London defeated TV by nine points.

The third game was played at Finland School. The Vikings kept pace with the opponent in the first half with the score being tied at the end of that period. The score remained close until the last four minutes when the Finland team pulled ahead and defeated the Little Vikings 49-45. High scorer for TV was Lee Curry.

Snyder and Mary Zimmer defeated the Hamilton Varsity 39-13. Jody Butt led the scoring with 14 points.

Frosh Basketball At Teays Valley

The freshmen scored a 49-37 victory over Hilliards on Teays Valley's home basketball floor.

At the end of the first quarter the Vikings led 16-4. At half-time they trailed by one point. In the last quarter the Vikings obtained a 10-point lead and the game ended in a victory. Mark Leatherwood was the high scorer.

The next game was with London and again on the Vikings' home court. The local freshmen were in foul trouble at the end of the first quarter and trailed at half time by ten points. London defeated TV by nine points.

The third game was played at Finland School. The Vikings kept pace with the opponent in the first half with the score being tied at the end of that period. The score remained close until the last four minutes when the Finland team pulled ahead and defeated the Little Vikings 49-45. High scorer for TV was Lee Curry.

Snyder and Mary Zimmer defeated the Hamilton Varsity 39-13. Jody Butt led the scoring with 14 points.

Tiger Cagers 73-72 Victors In Overtime Tilt

By STEVE JONES
The Circleville Tigers provided local cage fans with a thrilling tournament victory Wednesday night, edging Columbus Whetstone 73-72, in an overtime.

The tilt was nip and tuck all the way, with never more than five points separating the two teams. The score was tied 18 times and the lead changed hands on 21 occasions.

Whetstone controlled the opening tip and within eight seconds scored the first bucket when Jeff Jones sank a one-hand jump shot from the corner.

But Circleville bounced right back with Dan Speakman and Jimmy Diltz scoring before the Braves could get back on the board.

THE GAME was knotted for the first time when Ned Kirby hit from the side with 5:51 to go. During the first quarter the score was tied four more times.

A field goal by Dick Rahm, third leading scorer in the Columbus City League, put the Braves ahead, 17-16, at the end of the first eight minutes of play. In the second quarter, Whetstone held the scoring lead most of the time.

At one point, a long set shot by Kent Rinker put the losers ahead by a 30-25 count. They led again 32-27, with 1:57 to go in the second quarter. These were the widest margins in the entire game.

Circleville started a comeback when Mike Martindill hit a long set from the corner. Tim Stonerock stole the ball seconds later and drove in for a layup that left only one point between the two teams. The score at halftime was 36-35.

During the first half, the Tigers stuck with their familiar 1-3-1 zone defense. But in the second they switched to a half-court and a full-court zone press at times, dropping quickly back into their zone when the Braves started to move toward the basket.

With 3:42 remaining in the third quarter the Tigers regained the lead for the first time since the first quarter.

DANNY GIBBS scored all five of his points during a span of one minute to boost the Tigers from a 40-38 deficit to a 43-42 lead. At the end of the period, the score stood at 54-53, and Circleville was leading.

In the fourth quarter, Stonerock and Joe Winner put the Tigers ahead, 58-55. But the Braves tied the score when Ned Kirby hit a foul shot with 4:43 to go. Kirby canned a pair of charity shots seconds later and Whetstone was leading 60-58.

Jim Diltz sparked a rally by knotting the score. He pulled a rebound off the Whetstone boards seconds later and fired a perfect pass to Tim Stonerock right under the Tiger basket and the Red and Black was back on top again.

Once again Kirby came through for the losers at the foul line, canning a pair of charity tosses that knotted the count. Rahm put Whetstone ahead, 64-62, and 1:40 was left to play.

Stonerock was fouled, tied the score as he converted both ends of the one-and-one.

Diltz put Circleville ahead, 66-64, with 43 seconds to go. But Rahm knotted the score again by sinking a basket in the final 24 seconds.

Whetstone had a final shot at the basket just before the buzzer, but missed.

***
IN THE overtime, Danny Speakman rebounded a shot that Diltz had missed and put it through the nets to give the Tigers the lead. A pair of free throws by Whetstone, one by Kirby and the other by Rinker, tied the score again.

Speakman then hit a foul shot but Rinker put Whetstone ahead, 70-69, with 1:55 to go. Diltz scored with 1½ minutes left, Jack Wilson of Whetstone put the losers ahead 72-71. Diltz scored the last bucket with 1:06 to go.

Whetstone had a couple of chances to go ahead in the last minute, one of their shots coming after the Tigers

St. Joe, LaSalle Chalk Up Pair Of Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was sweet revenge for the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia.

The Hawks, seventh-ranked nationally in The Associated Press college basketball poll, had been beaten twice last year by the eighth-ranked Providence Friars, once in the regular season and again in the NCAA East regionals.

They met for the first time this season Wednesday night at the Palestra in Philadelphia and the Hawks crushed the Friars 86-67 for their ninth straight victory and a season record of 22-4.

"Revenge, revenge, revenge," chanted the crowd of 9,246 throughout the game as Matt Guokas with 21, and Cliff Anderson with 19, combined for 40 points in leading the rout. Jim Walker's 23 points led Providence, now 21-4.

The Hawks plan another revenge night against the Friars Monday night at Blacksburg, Va., where they meet in the first round of this season's NCAA tournament.

The game topped off a double-header. In the opener, LaSalle upset Louisville 96-92 behind Hubie Marshall's 42 points. The Explorers, on the upgrade from a dismal 4-14 mark, now have won six in a row. Wade Houston scored 30 for Louisville.

Unbeaten Texas Western and No. 2 in the AP poll made it 23 straight with a 73-56 road romp over New Mexico State. Another NCAA-bound team, Syracuse, similarly won on the road against Niagara 93-78 behind Dave Bing's 27 points and 16 rebounds.

A last-second basket by Keith Swagerty gave U. of Pacific a 63-63 regulation tie against San Jose State as he led the Tigers to a 77-73 overtime road triumph over the Spartans.

Swagerty, a 6-foot-7 junior, scored 39 points altogether including the basket that put the Tigers ahead for good in the overtime 73-71.

Denver's Pioneers ended their first winning season in six years by defeating the Air Force at home 86-81. Harry Hollines scored 32 points and set a one season school record of 633 as DU ended the campaign with a 14-11 record.

Conversely, Notre Dame ended its worst season in years at 5-21 by losing to Creighton at South Bend 72-68.

Johnson Calls Off Redleg Holdout

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — When Deron Johnson arrives at the Cincinnati Reds spring training camp, it's expected he'll be tried at his third position in as many years with the club.

Johnson ended his holdout Wednesday when he signed his 1966 contract at an estimated $25,000, a $10,000 increase over last season.

Manager Don Heffner plans to give Johnson a try out in left field in order to make room for rookie Tommy Helms in the infield. Johnson played first base in 1964 and was switched to third base last year.

notch in the Central District Class AA tournament, meeting tall and powerful Bishop Hartley 9:30 p. m. Saturday.

Hartley last night defeated Reynoldsburg, 71-59. Early in the season, Circleville dropped a 72-34.

Kentuckians Spoil Final Miami Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miami's NCAA tournament entry ended its regular season on a sour note Wednesday night because Eastern Kentucky threw the Redskins' own prime weapon—defense—back at them in spades.

The Maroons turned back the visiting Ohioans by holding them to 18 points in the second half, rubbing out a 34-26 halftime deficit and winning 59-52.

Playing out the string in the Miami-dominated Mid-American Conference, Ohio University and Bowling Green finished in a third place tie as the Bobcats clipped second place Toledo 76-69 at Athens while the Falcons prevailed at home over Marshall 105-95 as Nick Alo and Walt Piatkowski teamed for 69 points.

Cleveland State completed its maiden season by thumping city rival Case Tech 81-70.

The Maroons took the lead at 53-52 with 2:30 to play and added the tilt's final six points. Eddie Bodkin led the winners with 21 points.

Substitute Don Spires collected 24 points and 10 rebounds in leading Ohio U. to victory after the Bobcats trailed 41-34 at the half.

Aloi bagged 32 points and Piatkowski 28 in dropping Marshall. George Stone hit 26 for the losers.

Denny Lenk got 17 points and 22 rebounds for Cleveland State.

Cleveland Catcher Recalls 1965 Flop

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Catcher Joe Azcue of the Cleveland Indians is determined to make up for the flop season he had last year.

The once happy-go-lucky Cuban is deadly serious as he goes about getting ready for the 1966 season.

The first to admit that he was one of the major reasons for the Indians' poor showing last year, Azcue said Wednesday that the Tribe should have finished second instead of fifth.

"We would have if I had been better," he said. "I didn't care about anything. But now I do."

Azcue batted only .230 last season. He also grounded into 15 double plays and had 14 passed balls. "I was very bad," he said.

St. Joe, LaSalle Chalk Up Pair Of Upsets

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
It was sweet revenge for the St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia.

The Hawks, seventh-ranked nationally in The Associated Press college basketball poll, had been beaten twice last year by the eighth-ranked Providence Friars, once in the regular season and again in the NCAA East regionals.

They met for the first time this season Wednesday night at the Palestra in Philadelphia and the Hawks crushed the Friars 86-67 for their ninth straight victory and a season record of 22-4.

"Revenge, revenge, revenge," chanted the crowd of 9,246 throughout the game as Matt Guokas with 21, and Cliff Anderson with 19, combined for 40 points in leading the rout. Jim Walker's 23 points led Providence, now 21-4.

The Hawks plan another revenge night against the Friars Monday night at Blacksburg, Va., where they meet in the first round of this season's NCAA tourney.

The game topped off a double-header. In the opener, LaSalle upset Louisville 96-92 behind Hubie Marshall's 42 points. The Explorers, on the upgrade from a dismal 4-14 mark, now have won six in a row. Wade Houston scored 30 for Louisville.

Unbeaten Texas Western and No. 2 in the AP poll made it 23 straight with a 73-56 road romp over New Mexico State. Another NCAA-bound team, Syracuse, similarly won on the road against Niagara 93-78 behind Dave Bing's 27 points and 16 rebounds.

A last-second basket by Keith Swagerty gave U. of Pacific a 63-63 regulation tie against San Jose State as he led the Tigers to a 77-73 overtime road triumph over the Spartans.

Swagerty, a 6-foot-7 junior, scored 39 points altogether including the basket that put the Tigers ahead for good in the overtime 77-71.

Denver's Pioneers ended their first winning season in six years by defeating the Air Force at home 86-81. Harry Hollines scored 32 points and set a one season school record of 633 as DU ended the campaign with a 14-11 record.

Conversely, Notre Dame ended its worst season in years at 5-21 by losing to Creighton at South Bend 72-68.

Johnson Calls Off Redleg Holdout

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — When Deron Johnson arrives at the Cincinnati Reds spring training camp, it's expected he'll be tried at his third position in as many years with the club. Johnson ended his holdout Wednesday when he signed his 1966 contract at an estimated $25,000, a $10,000 increase over last season.

Manager Don Heffner plans to give Johnson a try out in left field in order to make room for rookie Tommy Helms in the infield. Johnson played first base in 1964 and was switched to third base last year.

Demands of 3 Top Players Trouble Twins' President

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jim Grant, Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles helped make Cal Griffith baseball's executive of the year in 1965.

Now they've put him in the running for most troubled executive of 1966.

Griffith, president of the American League champion Minnesota Twins, leads Baltimore's Harry Dalton for AL honors and is running neck-and-neck with Buzzie Bavasi of the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers for the over-all title.

Dalton's problems are second baseman Jerry Adair, third baseman Brooks Robinson and outfielder Frank Robinson. Bavasi has pitchers Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale and shortstop Maury Wills to contend with.

Griffith, who headed a second-division team for seven of his first nine years as president, is finding it difficult to handle the financial desires of a championship team.

"We still are a long way apart," Griffith said Wednesday of his negotiations with Grant, the AL's winningest pitcher last season.

Grant earned about $21,000 while posting a 21-7 record last year and originally wanted $50,000 for 1966.

Oliva, who led the league in batting for the second straight year, received about $18,000 last season and seeks $35,000 now.

As for shortstop Versalles, the league's Most Valuable Player: "I am asking for $45,000 now. Calvin's last offer was $40,000. I have come down from $50,000, and he has come up from $38,000. His first offer was for a $10,000 raise."

The Orioles' Brooks Robinson has been working out at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., while reportedly seeking a raise from $50,000 to $55,000.

Bavasi's Dodger problems stem from Wills' reported desire for a one-year, $100,000 contract and the attempts of Koufax and Drysdale at winning contracts of $500,000 for three years.

Policeman Is Named Cincy Safety Director

CINCINNATI (AP)—A policeman is the city's new safety director. Henry Sandman, chief of detectives and assistant police chief, was named to the $21,500-a-year post Wednesday to succeed Robert W. Lockridge, who died Feb. 21. The appointment, by City Manager William C. Wichman, is effective March 15.

SCO Banquet Set Monday

All-League Team To Be Announced

The South Central Ohio League honor banquet has been scheduled 6:30 p. m. Monday at Miami Trace High School it was announced today by Edwin Nestor, Washington C. H. principal. Dr. James R. Hull will be the main speaker.

Dr. Hull is a graduate of Greenfield McClain High School where he was accorded All-Ohio honors in both football and basketball.

The famed athlete attended Ohio State University where he was the Buckeye's first basketball All-American in 1939. While attending the OSU College of Dentistry he also served as freshman basketball coach.

Dr. Hull is now an assistant professor in the college of dentistry.

HIGHLIGHT of the evening will be the naming of the All-South Central Ohio League basketball team. The stars will be picked by coaches on Sunday and announced the next evening at the banquet.

The league cage championship trophy will be presented to Wilmington. In addition to the basketball teams, members of last spring's baseball, golf and track teams will be honored.

Luman Harris, who managed the Houston Astros last season, is now one of their scouts.

Cleveland Catcher Recalls 1965 Flop

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Catcher Joe Azcue of the Cleveland Indians is determined to make up for the flop season he had last year.

The once happy-go-lucky Cuban is deadly serious as he goes about getting ready for the 1966 season.

The first to admit that he was one of the major reasons for the Indians' poor showing last year, Azcue said Wednesday that the Tribe should have finished second instead of fifth.

"We would have if I had been better," he said. "I didn't care about anything. But now I do." Azcue batted only .230 last season. He also grounded into 15 double plays and had 14 passed balls. "I was very bad," he said.

Top Ohio Teams Face Stiff Tests

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Some of Ohio's top-ranked high school basketball teams face stiff opposition this weekend in final sectional tournament activity.

The top game of the early tournament grind comes up Friday at Lima when No. 2 ranked Lima Shawnee (20-0) tangles with rugged Findlay (16-4) with the winner advancing to the Bowling Green district.

Findlay, the No. 12 club in the statewide ratings, boasts one of the state's top scholastic stars in Dave Sorenson, a 6-foot-6 center who hit 44 in his team's victory over Van Wert last weekend.

No. 1 ranked Canton McKinley (18-1) faces Fairless (16-4) in a Saturday clash; No. 3 Dayton Chaminade (19-1) should have little trouble Friday against Dayton Wilbur Wright and No. 4 Warren Harding (19-1) opposes Newton Falls (16-4) in a Saturday fray with the victor moving into the Youngstown district.

Toledo Libbey, fifth-ranked, meets Toledo St. Francis Friday; No. 8 Wellston (16-2) battles South Point Friday; No. 9 Columbus Linden (15-2) catches Columbus Brookhaven tonight and tenth-ranked Columbus East (12-5) should have no trouble against Groveport (2-16) Friday.

The only quintet among the top ten victimized thus far was No. 6 Cleveland East Tech, which bowed to Cleveland John Kennedy 66-65 last week. Kennedy then was eliminated Wednesday night by Bedford Chancel 59-55.

No. 7 Elyria (17-3) got by Midview Wednesday night 87-34 and plays in the Lorain district finale Friday.

In another important Wednesday game, Akron East, ranked in a tie for 12th with Findlay, won its 19th against a lone set-back by beating Ravenna 60-41.

No. 11 Middletown (16-4) challenges Taylor Friday; No. 14 Hamilton Garfield (17-3) plays Franklin Saturday and No. 15 Columbus West (15-2) has a duel Friday with Columbus South (10-7), last year's Class AA champion.

The AP's top ten in Class A are still in the running. No. 1 Springboro (19-1) battles Mason Friday and No. 2 Rossford (20-0) has a Friday engagement with Ottawa Hills.

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Television's best mystery this week isn't appearing on the living-room screens. This is a real who-done-it: Who managed to crack the supersecret list of names of a research company's audience sample and ask about 33 families on it to comment on the commercials of a single show?

The A. C. Nielsen Co. which reported to clients that its "security" had been breached, will identify neither the program involved nor the suspects.

But it did say that about 6 percent of its sample of 590 families had received a questionnaire requesting comment on the commercials of a program broadcast between 8:30 and 9:30 p.m. on Friday, Feb. 18. Network shows being broadcast at that time were Carol Channing's special on CBS; "The Sammy Davis Jr. Show" on NBC, and "The Addams Family" and "Honey West" on ABC.

In its bulletin to clients, the Nielsen company said it had excluded all contacted homes from the statistics on which audience estimates are based.

Each family in the Nielsen sample is chosen the company says, because its viewing choices are supposed to be typical of thousands of others. Thus if some families were asked to comment on the content of a specific show, they might tune in a program they would otherwise ignore. This, of course, could weight the ratings—a matter of intense concern to Nielsen, the networks, sponsors and even the Federal Trade Commission.

Danny Thomas has decided to withdraw a series set for NBC's Saturday night line-up next season: "My 15 Blocks." The ostensible reason is Thomas' puzzling unhappiness about the show's position—after "Flipper" and before "Get Smart." This lovely spot between two hit shows is called a "cradle position" in the trade, the best of all possible locations.

The real reason, according to informed trade sources, is that the first show in the comedy series turned out to be a disaster. NBC convinced Thomas who had a firm commitment, that it would be wiser to pull out than risk hurting the excellent batting average of Thomas' production company.

CBS has postponed its two-hour adaptation of Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman" to April 17. It seems that somebody discovered belatedly that the original air date, April 3, was Palm Sunday and decided the show was not a suitable choice for that religious holiday.
